THE official reports show that no baking powder received an award over the Royal at the Chicago World's Fair.

The judge of awards on baking powder writes that the claim by another company to have received the highest award is false; that no such award was given to it.

The Royal Baking Powder is the purest and strongest baking powder made, and has received the highest award at every fair, wherever exhibited in competition with others.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., 105 WALL ST., NEW YORK.

TWO FIRES.

One Started by Boys at Play and the Other by an Incendiary.

Some boys got hold of an old keg of white lead, set fire to it and were having fun with it in a lot back of the penitentiary Tuesday afternoon, when in throwing it about they set fire to the fence between the prison lumber yard and Gaines' livery stable, which caused an alarm to be sent in from box 24. But little damage was done.

The residents on the block bounded by Shelby and Main and Second and Third streets, South Side, were suddenly awoken a little after 12 o'clock Tuesday night by the cry of fire and a brilliant light shooting up into the heavens. The cause was soon discovered to be the stable of Dr. O. H. Reynolds, which was in a bright blaze. The stable, with its contents, was too far gone when the fire department reached the scene to be saved, and the firemen turned their attention to the new double brick house of Dr. Reynolds, only a short distance away, to which the flames had been communicated. An insufficiency of hose on the ground the bungling on the part of some one allowed the flames to get such a headway in the new building that it was damaged to the extent of $1,000 or $1,200 before the fire was extinguished.

Dr. Reynold's horse and buggy and a case of instruments he left in the buggy were burned in the stable and a hen house and woodshed on the Wingate property, which is at present occupied by Judge Thomas H. Hines, were also destroyed, but by a lively use of a garden hose Mr. Gabe Addams saved the stable of his sister, Mrs. Louie B. Longmoor, just across the alley.

The new brick veneer house of Dr. Reynolds—which was so badly damaged that a new mansard and tin roof will have to be put on it, the back wall probably have to be taken down and rebuilt, and the interior replastered—would have been completed this week and ready for occupancy. Dr. Reynolds had not a cent of insurance on his stable or house, and Mr. S. T. Pence, the contractor, had taken out a builder's risk for $1,000, which will nearly cover the loss. The contractor had received all the money on the contract except $400, but as the Doctor had not received the house from him he will have to repair the damage.

The fire was evidently the work of an incendiary, as Dr. Reynolds went home about 11 o'clock, put his horse and buggy in the stable and retired, there being no fire about the place at that time. About 12 o'clock the cook at Mrs. Longmoor's, who sleeps in the rear part of the house, was awakened by the noise made by Dr. Reynolds' horse kicking violently against the side of the stable, discovered the fire and gave the alarm.

For rheumatism I have found nothing equal to Climax and Paraffin Bath. It relieves the pain almost at a sp. J. W. Young, West Liberty, W. Va. The prompt relief it affords is alone worth many times the cost, 50 cents. Its continued use will effect a permanent cure. For sale by PHIL CAMPBELL, South Side Druggist.

The Minstrels.

You who have seen the thousand and one imitators of the great minstrel celebrity Frank E. McFadden can now have an opportunity of seeing the original by attending Hi Henry's Minstrels at Capital Opera House, on Monday, December 3d. Hi Henry promises the greatest minstrel attraction of his life this season.

Will Lecture Here.

Gen. Basil W. Duke will deliver his celebrated lecture on "Morgan and His Men" at the Opera House on Wednesday evening, December 5th. This lecture is highly spoken of by everyone who has heard it, and Gen. Duke should be greeted with a large audience when he appears here.

Granted a Pension.

Dr. J. G. Hatchitt, of Newton, Scott county, but for many years postmaster in this city, came down Wednesday and spent the day in this city. While here he received a certificate that he had been granted a pension for service in the army during the late war.

Thrown from a Buggy.

Mr. L. R. Dickinson, Superintendent of the Chair Factory at the Kentucky Penitentiary, was out riding Monday afternoon and was thrown from his buggy, receiving an injury to one of his kidneys which confined him to the house for several days.

WATCH LOST—A ladies' gold unction case watch was lost on Tuesday afternoon or evening. The finder will please leave same at Mr. Phil Carpenter's drug store or return to Miss Sarah Bell, 1516 Cross street, and be rewarded.

Sunday Alarms.

About 3 o'clock Sunday morning the soot in the smoke stack at Miles & Son's mill took fire and burned out, which caused an alarm to be turned in from box 21. About 1 o'clock Sunday afternoon a small blaze was discovered in the show window of Mr. George Salander's grocery, on Second street, and an alarm was turned in from box 12. It is supposed that a boy or some one struck a match on the side of the window and that a portion of the burning head of the match must have gotten into a crack between the sash and frame, setting fire to some paper on the inside. The fire department was promptly on hand in both instances but threw no water.

A Card.

Editor Roundabout:

The section hands employed by the L. & N. Railroad near Benson Station have become such great nuisances that I am compelled to complain of them through the agency of the press, being unable to obtain redress through the courts. Myself or family cannot visit Benson Station without being yelled and hooted at by this gang, the noise they make frequently causing the horse we use to become frightened and unmanageable. The lives of ladies riding about the neighborhood have also been endangered by the noise made by these hoodlums frightening their horses. It seems to me peaceable citizens should receive some protection from the officers of the law in this matter, but I have been refused warrants every time I have applied for them, in the effort to abate this nuisance.

The Modern Mother

Has found that her little ones are improved more by the pleasant laxative, Syrup of Figs, when in need of the laxative effect of a gentle remedy than by any other, and that it is more acceptable to them. Children enjoy it and it benefits them. The true remedy, Syrup of Figs, is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only.

The Other Side.

Several weeks ago we published an article in regard to an attack upon young Mac Blayney, of this city, on the foot ball field in Louisville. Mr. Per Due, the attacking party, called at our office yesterday and requested the insertion of the following:

"The statement made in regard to the assault on Mac Blayney at the foot ball game in Louisville is not altogether correct. The particulars show that Mr. Per Due was perfectly justifiable in doing what he did. He would not have been molested had he not been meddling with other people's business."

Frankfort Y. M. C. A.

About seventy-five of the leading young men of our city met in the chapel of the Baptist Church Sunday afternoon and organized a Y. M. C. A. After a discussion of its purposes, etc., by several prominent young men and the pastors of our city, a temporary organization was perfected and the following officers elected: Mr. McKenzie R. Todd, President; Mr. Louis Coy, Vice-President; Mr. E. W. Hines, Secretary; Mr. W. D. Bull, Treasurer.

Much interest is being manifested in this movement, and there is no doubt but what it will be a success. An effort is being made to secure handsome headquarters, with reading rooms, gymnasium, etc. This is something Frankfort is greatly in need of, and all of our citizens should take hold and assist in making it a success.

The president and other officers are active young men and we are satisfied they will establish such an organization that the people of our city can well feel proud of. Let everybody lend some encouragement in this movement and thus assure its success.

They will meet to-morrow, Sunday, afternoon at 3 o'clock in the chapel of the Baptist Church to hear reports from the committees. Let all who are interested be present.

No Street Cars Running.

The electric cars were taken off the line in this city Thursday morning and may remain off some days. There are several reasons given for the stoppage, viz: the necessity for some repairs at the power house, the travel being so light that the road has been operated at a loss, and a disagreement between the local managers and the foreign stock-holders. Mr. John T. Buckley, the Secretary and manager of the road, thinks that matters will be adjusted in a few days and the cars started again, but in the mean time the people will have to walk.

The Silver King.

The story of "The Silver King," which will be presented in the Opera House Thursday night, December 6th, is simple, but it is full of the dramatic. Carl A. Haswin, who essays the leading role of Wilf Ed Denver, is a capital actor, and his re-appearance in this part has evoked the greatest interest in theatrical circles. The following is a synopsis of the main incidents of this powerful melodrama:

The curtain rises on Wilfred Denver, the hero of the play. He has lost money at the races and is trying to drown his despair in drink. He is taunted in his misery by Geoffrey Ware, a former suitor of his wife, who goads him to such madness by his sneers that he threatens to kill him. Denver reaches Ware's chambers late at night and finds them occupied by a gang of burglars, headed by a swell cracksmen, Captain Skinner, who uses his social position to obtain points for criminal enterprises. Denver is seized and chloroformed, and soon Ware enters and in the struggle which ensues Skinner shoots him with Denver's pistol. After the burglars have left Denver slowly recovers consciousness and gradually, as the effects of drink and chloroform wear off, he recalls the purpose of his being there. Groping for his hat, he touches Ware's lifeless body and the terrible conviction is forced upon him that he has killed the man. Concealing his revolver he rushes away, feeling himself a murderer and a fugitive.

In the second act he returns to his wife and makes a confession of his supposed crime, when she assists him to a disguise and he departs for a northern seaport. Before the train reaches its destination Denver jumps from it to avoid detection, and after so doing makes his way to an inn, where he learns that the train from which he but recently jumped had, further on, collided with some wagons loaded with petroleum, and the car in which he had been was burned. Thus, by his supposed death, he is enabled to leave England unrecognized and goes to America, where, in a lucky deal, he becomes the owner of a Nevada silver mine and immensely wealthy. He returns in a few years, changed by sorrow and remorse, to find his wife and children about to be ejected from their home by Skinner for unpaid rent. Denver then discovers that Skinner and not himself is the guilty man, and the play closes with the triumph of innocence and the punishment of the guilty.

A Great Benefactor.

"Educators are certainly the greatest benefactors of the race, and after reading Dr. Franklin Miles' article in the last number of 'The Standard' you will be ready to help declare him to be among the most entertaining and educating of authors."—New York Daily. He is not a stranger to our readers, as his advertisements appear in our columns from time to time, calling attention to the fact that this able work on Nervous Disease is distributed free by our enterprising druggist, J. W. Gayle. Trial bottles of Dr. Miles' Nervine are given away for a sample of the monograph showing that it is unequalled for nervous prostration, headache, poor memory, dizziness, sleeplessness, neuralgia, hysteria, fits, epilepsy, etc.

Gen. Duke's Lecture.

Since the war General Duke has devoted his time, mainly, to the practice of law, at Louisville, Ky., incidentally serving as commonwealth attorney of Louisville district and a term in the State Legislature. He is a well-known figure in the literary field, having at one time edited the Southern Bivouac, and is at present editor of the Southern Magizene. His History of Morgan's Cavalry, which he gave to the public shortly after the war was over, has been read by thousands, north and south, who can readily premise the intense interest contained in a lecture on the same subject, delivered by this brilliant writer and speaker.

The striking incidents of Morgan's career and the history of his command, including the organization of the squadron and its service up to Shiloh, the first raid into Kentucky; service in Tennessee, closing with the defeat of General Johnson at Gallatin; service during Bragg's campaign in that State, service in the winter of 1862 and the battle of Hartsville and the second raid into Kentucky immediately after; service in Tennessee and the famous Ohio raid and incidental calls at Indiana points; the capture and incarceration, at Columbus, Ohio, of Morgan, Duke and other officers and men of the command, followed by their thrilling escape from prison service in southwestern Virginia and the great Kentucky raid of 1864; Morgan's dramatic death and the subsequent daring deeds of his old command under the lead of Basil Duke; as may be imagined, will provide a fund of entertainment, instruction and amusement far beyond the level of ordinary topics of the lecture room.

Gen. Basil W. Duke will lecture at the Opera House Wednesday night, December 5th.

Strong Witnesses.

Among the thousands of testimonies of cures by Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure, is that of Nathan Allison, a well-known citizen of Glen Rock, Pa., who suffers from attacks of breath, sleeplessness, pain in left side, shoulders, aching spells, etc.; one bottle of Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure and one box of Nerve and Liver Pills, cured him. Peter Jacques Sallin, N. J., another witness who says, "I once suffered with Heart Disease, was pronounced incurable by physicians, death stared him in the face, could not lie down for fear of smothering to death. I have been ever since, however, in perfect health, could lie down and sleep all night, and is now a well man. The New Cure is sold, also a free book, by J. W. Gayle."

FRANKFORT, DECEMBER 1, 1894.

Council Proceedings.

The regular meeting of the City Council was held on Tuesday evening.

Mayor Julian returned the ordinance in regard to the annexation of Bellepoint without his signature. In giving as his reasons for failure to sign the ordinance he said that it was not passed in accordance with law and was therefore not valid. He also gave it as his opinion that it was bad policy to annex the town of Bellepoint at this time, as it would entail an additional expense upon the city.

The veto was sustained by a vote of 7 to 2—only nine councilmen being present at that time.

The finance Committee reported that the Fort Hill property should not be taxed and report was adopted.

The Charity Committee reported unfavorably on two accounts amounting to about $70, presented for nursing Maggie Owsley, the women who was shot some months ago, and the report was adopted.

Councilman Marshall presented an ordinance proposing to annex Bellepoint and describing the territory. This ordinance cures the defect in the one on the same subject vetoed by the Mayor. The vote being taken on its first passage the vote stood 6 to 4 in favor of the ordinance.

The ordinance empowering the Mayor to borrow $5,000, for the city's present uses, was given its second and final passage.

STANDS NEXT TO HEAD

In the Pay In, but In the Get Back Where Is She?

The annual report of the Commissioner of Internal Revenue shows that Kentucky, as an internal revenue paying State, stands second on the list, Illinois coming first and New York third. During the last fiscal year the receipts from Kentucky were $24,308,630. During the same year we asked the government for a decent appropriation in the River and Harbor bill to improve our rivers and got a measly amount, while States which pay comparatively no internal revenue into the treasury were handsomely provided for.

Another Change In Hardware.

Mr. Geo. L. Hannen, who recently sold out his hardware store on Broadway to Mr. C. E. Collins, has bought out Mr. M. P. Gray, on Main street, and will return to the hardware business. An invoice of Mr. Gray's stock is now being taken and when completed Mr. Hannen will take charge. Mr. Gray will probably remove to Louisville to engage in business, but not before next summer or fall.

A Herald of the Infant Year.

Clip the last thirty years or more from the diary, and the moment will represent the sum of the boundless popularity of Rotterster's Stomach Sisters. The opening of the year 1895 will be signalized by the appearance of a fresh Almanac of the Bitterns, in which the uses, derivation and the action of this world-famous remedy are clearly set forth, and every one should read it. The calendar and astronomical calculation to be found in this brochure are all illustrations, humor and other reading matter filled in interest and full of profit. The Rotterster's Stomach Sisters are well known to themselves. They employ more than six hundred in the medical and work, and more than eleven thousand in the great number of their patients. It can be obtained, without cost, of a drugstore or druggist, or by mail, in America, Germany, England, Wales, Norwegian, Swedish, Holland, Bohemian and Spanish.

Appointed a Detective.

Capt. B. W. Jenkins, formerly of this city, was on Tuesday appointed by the Secretary of the Treasury a detective of the secret service of the Government. He will make his headquarters in Louisville.

Any one who has children will rejoice with L. B. Mulford of Plainfield, N. J. His little boy, five years of age, was sick with croup. For two days and nights he tried various remedies to no avail. He says, "I thought if I could learn him, I had seen Chamberlain's Cough Remedy advertised and thought I would try it as a last hope and am happy to say that after two doses he slept until morning. I gave it to him next day and a few days afterward he was perfectly well again. I have since recommended it to many others and they all say that it is the last of it." 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by PHIL. CARPENTER, South Side Druggist.

FRANKFORT ROUNDABOUT

FRANKFORT, DECEMBER 1, 1894.

Extracts from Rev. B. Fay Mills Sermons Delivered in this City.

We thought that a few of the pithy sayings of each sermon preached by Mr. Mills to this community would be acceptable, therefore, we offer them in our columns.

FIRST SERMON.

Text—First they gave their own selves to God.

He said that the human will was superior to any other faculty of the human mind, and that while it is supremely free, yet it is the duty of man to surrender, to conform his will to God's will. He described what a gift is, and showed that the surrender of the will was the highest gift of man to God. It is the only way to enjoy perfect freedom. [I am glad that a gift is acceptable to God and that God's favor cannot be bought, because I have nothing with which to buy. A man in New York offered his physician two millions of dollars if he could prolong his life one hour. The physician was unable to do so and man is unable to purchase God's pardon with any of his possessions. He remarked—That an un consecrated intellect is the vilest thing in the universe.

SECOND SERMON.

After reading a chapter from the Bible Mr. Mills said, I shall speak to you to-day about

The things which accompany Salvation.

1st. A saved person is conscious of his salvation. It is impossible for a living man to be unconscious of it if he once experiences it. The testimony of consciousness is indisputable.

2d. Growth is an accompaniment of salvation. To test your growth get under the highest mark you ever made in your Christian life and see if you can reach it or if you have grown beyond it. God cannot make a full-grown saint in a second—He never did.

3d. Joyfulness accompanies salvation. The Christian should be always rejoicing as Paul was. There is no danger in joyfulness, the danger is in being cross, selfish, morose.

4th. Love for Christ accompanies salvation. It makes the Christian life a luxury.

5th. Right influence—members accompanies salvation. Small things influence a word, yes, even the acceptance of a single syllable may turn another to a better life. There is no excuse for parents to have godless children. How many have you influenced to a better life during the past year? He quoted a verse of Nothing but Leaves, and pictured a person before the judgment bar of God with nothing but leaves as the result of his labor in the harvest of souls.

THIRD SERMON.

Text—And being in an agony he prayed more earnestly.

I select this text for two reasons:

1. It refers to Jesus.

2. It refers to a kind of prayer, agonizing prayer, in which great concern for humanity was manifested. Your friends, relatives, neighbors, need just such prayers. Moses prayed thus. Did you ever climb to where you could see where Moses stood?

Samuel's mother prayed with great concern for her unborn child. You have godless children, husbands, wives, because you have not used the agonizing form of prayer.

Reasons for prayer:

1st. It reveals God's feelings to the Christian. The church is the mother of us all. He compared the coldness of the church toward the new-born child of God with the spectacle of a newly born child seeking sustenance from the breast of its dead mother. Oh! Do not starve the babes of the church.

2d. It reveals Christ to his church. The great concern of Jesus for humanity has a powerful effect upon the people. A man who wants to do wrong can not by any possibility believe in Jesus Christ.

3d. It stimulates the Christian to have great concern for his fellowman. A tear may convert him. There is no argument against a tear.

4th. It relieves the soul that is heavily burdened. A soul heavily burdened with sin must have relief and it will get it through prayer. Christ's agony was a real thing, it was not wory.

FOURTH SERMON.

The lesson read was from John 1-35.

He asked—What do you know about Andrew? He was always bringing somebody or something to Christ. Good action is cumulative. John led Andrew to Christ, Andrew led Peter, Peter led Philip, Philip led Nathaniel.

Text—Compel them to come in. There are three agencies for conversion.

1. The sinner himself.
2. God's effort.
3. The effort of the Christian. As my Father sent me so I also send you. No man can make corn. Any Christian can make Christians. You may fail in securing a physical harvest. You cannot fail in reaping a spiritual harvest.

How to compel and what compels:

1. By loving influence of home and friends.

2. By the life of God within expressed outwardly.

3. Christian joy compels. If it is joyless for you to serve Christ you are not serving Him. Christian joy is a pearl of great price, it will cost you all you have. It costs entire surrender to the will of God.

A philosopher said—"If there is anything in religion that girl will not marry me. She married him, backsld, recovered herself, manifested an interest in her husband's conversion, he was converted. Did she not compel him to come into the fold?

4. The great tenderness of our love will compel them to come in. Down in the human heart, feelings lie buried. We can arouse them if we will.

5. Great self-sacrifice will compel them to come in. A strong swimmer cut the belt of gold from his body, abandoned it, in order to save a little girl from a wrecked vessel.

6. Get near to the sinner. If you stand afar off you will never succeed.

7. Choosing the right time compels. There are but two seasons to choose; in season and out of season; you must choose well.

8. Persistence in effort compels. If at first you don't succeed, try, try again.

9. Promptness compels. Now is the accepted time. Christian friends, we are judged by our opportunities, just as the sinner is.

FIFTH SERMON.

Text—Thy heart is not right concerning God.

It means that God's law must be in the heart to make it right. A man might have an atheistic head, but it is an awful thing to have an atheistic heart. People are judged by the opportunities of which they avail themselves.

The kinds of hearts which are not right in the sight of God:

1st. The idolatrous heart. Some worship riches, position, business, fame to the exclusion of their Creator. An old whaler said—"I have no heart, look down into my body where my heart should be and you will see the image of a whale."

2d. The unbelieving heart is not right. The trout must live in clear water, the flounder must live in muddy water. They cannot exchange places and live.

3d. A dishonest heart, one which is not right in the sight of man, is not right in the sight of God. Theories never saved anyone. When you get the heart right you will get peace. Peace will come through forgiving as well as through forgiveness.

4th. A proud, self-willful heart is not right with God. One and one is two, a very easy problem. Salvation is just as easily solved. I tell you, my friends, you have not been willing to say please to God. 5th. A divided, vacillating, fickle heart is not right with God. 6th. A hard impenitent heart is not right towards God.

The devil makes people proud of sin. The atheist thinks his culture has enabled him to outgrow all superstitions. It is sin not culture that has deadened the atheistic feeling.

7th. A careless, procrastinating heart is not right towards God. I'll tell you an allegory. Satan found the world growing too good, and he called a council of devils to consider the case. Several propositions were made and rejected. At last one devil, more cunning and diabolical than any of the others, said: "Send me to earth, I will tell them that there is a God, that he will punish sin, that the Bible is true from beginning to end, but I will say to the people don't be in a hurry, there is plenty of time, you can reform bye and bye, enjoy yourself now." Satan quickly said, "Go, go to earth and tell them this."

Group the Opportunity.

Our enterprising druggist, P. H. Carpenter, cordially invites you to try a 25c bottle of Dr. Hale's Household Cough Cure. This new remedy acts quickly on the bronchial tubes, throat and lungs, lessens the desire to cough and heals mucous membranes. If consumption it will cure you. Pleasant to take. The children like it.

Thanksgiving Services.

Thanksgiving services were held at the Methodist, First Presbyterian and Episcopal Churches on Tuesday and were well attended. At the Methodist Church the congregations of the Christian, Baptist, Southern Presbyterian and Methodist Churches united. Rev. J. Clay Lilly, who was to have preached the sermon, was unable to be present on account of the illness of his sister-in-law, and Rev. George Darsie filled his place. The chancel and pulpit space were decorated with autumn fruits, vegetables, grain and other articles for which the people have cause to be thankful to the Giver of All Good. The work was handsomely executed under the direction of Mrs. Russell Rodman and was highly complimented. Rev. Mr. Darsie preached an exceedingly appropriate sermon and a good collection was taken up for the poor.

At the First Presbyterian Church there was a large congregation, the sermon of Rev. Dr. Deney very fine and the choir rendered special music suited to occasion. The ladies of the church had also decorated the about the pulpit with grain, gourds and autumn fruits in a fine manner. The collection for the poor was large. R. L. McCready, the rector, conducted the services at the Old Church and preached an excellent sermon to a good congregation.

Frankfort Poet.

lowing is a clipping from a column of the Louisville Courier of Thursday:

"I'd like to rise and give his special Thanksgiving. I hear that Robert has laid down the brush and taken to his poetry. 'The song of und Spirit,' recently published, has been warmly received, the critics, many of our gifted town, is a born poet, but a recent artist, simply fact that he took to learning the rudiments. Many of his pictures are artistically beautiful, barely pull through who know a hawk from a crow. Of his latest on the New York comes the following:

"Wilson in his 'The Woods' a grand improvement nobody, yet al insight of e transfiguring and in the sec supreme melo-singing of the alasmistic spirit, er such wood on's day, and y grateful."

It is the only train for Jersey City Coast resorts, which are reached by the F. F. V. at dinner time instead of in the evening. It is the only train that enables business men to transact business in Cincinnati one day and reach Washington for breakfast the next morning. It is the most desirable train for New England resorts, connections being made in the Union Depot in Washington with the Colonial Express running through to Boston which reaches New Haven 4:10 p. m., New London 5:30 p. m., Providence 7:15 p. m. and Boston 8:30 p. m. OUR ST

Sent to Taylorsville.

Mr. Albert H. McClure, second son of Mr. R. K. McClure, who has for the last four months been learning the railroad business and telegraphy at the L. & N. Station in this city, has been appointed agent of the L. & N. Railroad at Taylorsville, Spencer county, and left Wednesday for that place to take charge of the office. The salary connected with the position is not so large as it might be and the company have heretofore not succeeded in getting a good man to remain there long, but we venture the assertion that Albert will stick it out and give the company such faithful service that he will earn promotion in the near future.

White Caps In Town.

A party of men disguised with long white masques obtained a section of hose Tuesday night, attached it to a fire plug on Mero street, turned on the water and washed out a couple of houses occupied by disreputable colored people, at the corner of Ann and Mero. The houses have long been nuisances to the neighborhood and the residents of that portion of the city will be glad that they have been cleared of their objectionable tenants.

Hi Henry's Minstrels.

The renowned and ever popular Hi Henry's Premium Minstrels, numbering 40 busto celebrities, and offering the very latest and best features in minstrelsy, will appear at Capital Opera House, Monday, December 3d. The press speak in the highest terms of this company.

he Grand Rapids Herald has to say of this great attraction:

Hi Henry's Minstrels drew a big audience at Powers' last night, and the entertainment was a success to many in point of excellence. It far surpassed the ordinary minstrel show, and many new and pleasing features were introduced. A new thing in minstrelsy was the special grand scenic first part, representing scenes from the World's Fair Moorish palace. The show has many commendable specialties and can furnish a pleasant evening's entertainment.

Mr. Ira P. Wetmore, a prominent real estate agent of San Angelo, Texas, has used Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhea Remedy in his family for several years as occasion required, and always with perfect success. He finds it a safe and effective cure for our baby when troubled with colic or dysentery. I now feel that my outfit is not complete without a bottle of this Remedy at home or on a trip away from home. For sale by PHIL. CARPENTER, South Side Druggist.
